

Canyon Ranch celebrates Chinese New Year

More regal than sapphire, less garish than diamonds and more exotic than moonstone is the mystical jade, a gemstone that according to the Chinese brings abundance and longevity to its owner. Feng shui masters believe this semi-precious "Stone of Heaven" can calm the soul, strengthen mental faculties and promote clear reasoning.

Learn more about the mystical powers of jade, and how it can turn your fortune around in the Year of the Pig when Canyon Ranch, the country's first Wi-Fi-integrated community developed by Century Properties, welcomes the Chinese New Year with a grand celebration tomorrow, Feb. 18.

"Kung Hei Fat Choi! A Chinese New Year Celebration at Canyon Ranch" will treat guests to a sumptuous Chinese lunch buffet, fortune cookies, dragon and lion dances, and free consultations with feng shui expert Aldric Dalumpines.

Positive chi will fill the residential development in Carmona, Cavite, as jade necklaces and trinkets will be given away to guests. Those who reserve a unit on the same day will get the chance to win spa treatments and restaurant gift certificates in the raffle.
